

WILSON RENEWS PEACE PACT FIGHT

To Oppose Congressional Resolution to Establish Peace.

By United Press.
WASHINGTON, May 5.—President Wilson has again resumed an aggressive leadership in the fight for the peace treaty and against the congressional peace resolution, it became plain today.

Developments during the last 24 hours indicated the president is still determined to make the treaty a campaign issue, if necessary, and that he probably will return it to the senate before congress recesses in June. These developments were: Administration senate leaders were advised that they should abandon plans for a filibuster against the Knox peace resolution and let the measure be passed and sent to the white house.

Will Veto Resolution.
From an authoritative administration source, it was stated definitely that the president will veto the resolution and veto it quickly. What his next step will be was not revealed.

Administration officials called attention to excerpts from an article written by Sen. Lodge for the Forum in December 1918. This action was the first open blow aimed at treaty opponents from the white house since the senate returned the treaty to the president.

The Lodge Article.
The part of the Lodge article given out here read:

"The president has delivered the war message and congress has voted for the war, would be guilty of the blackest crime if they were willing to make a peace on status quo ante bellum and re-create the situation which existed before the war. If we send our armies and our young men abroad to be killed and wounded in northern France with no result but this, our entrance into war with such an intention was a crime which nothing can justify. The intent of congress and the intent of the president was that there could be no peace until we could create a situation where no such war as this could recur. We cannot make peace except in company with our allies. It would brand us with everlasting dishonor and bring ruin to us also if we undertook to make a separate peace."

Administration officials claimed that Lodge in backing the Knox resolution is supporting the very course denounced in the quoted excerpts.

From Thin To Plump—Girls

The expressions of happiness and gratitude of several of his young lady patients or whom he prescribed the recently successful flesh forming product, known as three grain hypodermic tablets, is related by a physician in one of the medical publications and it comes as a surprise to the ordinary layman to learn the heart throbs of distress which seems to effect so many young people who are abnormally thin. Also to know that the weight can be so readily increased by the use, regularly for several months, of this peculiarly named preparation, now obtainable of the best apothecary shops in sealed packages with complete instructions for self-administration.

Be Careful What You Wash Your Hair With

Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali, which is very injurious, as it dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle.

The best thing to use is Multified coconut oil shampoo, for this is pure and entirely greaseless. It's very cheap and beats anything else all to pieces. You can get this at any drug store, and a few ounces will last the whole family for months.

Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in, about a teaspoonful is all that is required. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, cleanses thoroughly, and rinses out easily. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and is soft, fresh looking, bright, fluffy, wavy, and easy to handle. Besides, it loosens and takes out every particle of dust, dirt and dandruff.

After Whooping Cough—What?

This is No. 4 of a series of advertisements, prepared by a competent physician, explaining how certain diseases which attack the air passages—such as Pneumonia, Influenza, Whooping Cough, Measles or even a long continued Cold—often leave these organs in an inflamed, congested state, thus affording a favorable foothold for invading germs. And how Vicks' Vapo-Rub may be of value in this condition.

Whooping cough is the "meanest" disease that childhood is heir to. While rarely fatal in itself, except to children under two years of age, still it hangs on so long—the coughing paroxysms are so violent, preventing proper sleep and digestion—that when the disease does disappear it leaves the child weakened and run down. In addition the violent coughing racks and strains the air passages and after recovery this irritation frequently remains.

During this period of convalescence the child should be most carefully watched until full strength is restored and the air passages regain their normal tone. A prominent authority even goes so far as to say—"There is more criminal neglect in connection with whooping cough than with any other disease."

While the disease is active, Vicks' VapoRub usually helps to lessen the violence of the coughing, but it is during convalescence that Vicks is most valuable.

Because Vicks acts locally by stimulation thru the skin to draw out the inflammation, attract the blood away from the congested spots and relieve the cough. In addition the medicinal ingredients of Vicks are vaporized by the body heat. These vapors are breathed in all night long, thus bringing the medication to bear directly upon the inflamed areas.

Vicks should be rubbed in over the throat and chest until the skin is red—then spread on thickly and covered with hot flannel cloths. Leave the clothing loose around the neck and the bed clothes arranged in the form of a funnel so the vapors arising may be freely inhaled. If the cough is annoying swallow a small bit the size of a pea.

Children's digestions are delicate—easily disturbed by too much "dosing." Vicks, therefore, is particularly recommended, since it is externally applied and so can be used often and freely without the slightest harmful effects.

Samples to new users will be sent free on request to the Vicks Chemical Company, 234 Broad Street, Greensboro, N. C.
